We are always looking for ways to better coordinate your healthcare needs. With this in mind, Watch Us Grow Pediatrics has moved toward the Patient Centered Medical Home (PCMH) care model.

As a PCMH, the Watch Us Grow team will look at how we can best coordinate your healthcare needs. This comprehensive and proactive way of managing your care is meant to improve the quality of your office visits as well as your overall health.

The details of PCMH will be discussed with you during your appointment. Your personal physician will lead the team that will provide on-going care, with the goal of improving your health through a patient-provider relationship.

Provider Responsibilities:

- A physician directed healthcare team.
- Goal setting and care plan developed with you, your family and healthcare team.
- Increased appointment availability, extended office hours and/or access to urgent care services, as needed, including same-day appointments.
- Referrals and coordination of care with trusted specialists, and community resources, as needed.
- Sharing health information as necessary with care partners to improve quality and comprehensive care.
- Set communication expectations regarding test results and other medical services.

Patient Responsibilities:

- Ask questions, share your feelings and be an active participant in your healthcare discussions.
- Be honest when asked about your health history, symptoms, and other important information about your health.
- Call your primary care physician (PCP) first with any medical problems, unless it is a medical emergency.
- Bring any test results done by other physicians back to your PCP's office.
- Follow your treatment plan, including filling and taking medications as directed.
- Keep appointments.
- End each visit with a clear understanding of expectations, treatment goals, and future plans.
